Index to Chinese Education, Vol. 25
(Spring 1992–Winter 1992–93)

Spring 1992/Vol. 25, No. 1

Women, Education, and Employment (II)

Editor's Introduction
Stanley Rosen

1. The Maimed "Half Sky"—The Employment Crisis of Women in China
   Wang Jinling
2. The Transformation of Women's Perception of Employment
   Xu Anqi
3. On the Difficulty of the Employment of Young Women in Townships
   Chen Shaoxiong
4. A Study on the Sluggishness in the Transfer of Rural Female Labor to Nonagricultural Sectors
   Jin Yihong
5. Sex Discrimination in Education
   Nan Ning
6. The Plight of Job Placement for Female College Graduates
   Jiang Naiyong
7. The Current Status of Women Professors in China
   Wu Haiqing
8. The Problem of Sex Among Today's Chinese—A Nationwide Survey of "Sex Culture"
   Shanghai Sex-Sociology Study Center
9. Where Is the Way Out for Women?
10. Wherein Lies the Way Out for Me?
    Li Jing
11. Reflections on "Women Returning to the Home" in Daqiuzhuang Village
    Zhang Juan and Ma Wenrong

Summer 1992/Vol. 25, No. 2

Reform in the Financing of Education in Mainland China (I)

Guest Editor:
Cheng Kai Ming
University of Hong Kong

Editor's Introduction
Cheng Kai Ming

1. Documents of Reform in Educational Finance

1.1. Primary Education

1.1.1. Decision on Universalizing Primary Education (1980)

1.1.2. Provisional Code: Finance in Work-Study Programs (1982)

1.1.2.1. Supplement 1: Taxes with Work-Study Programs (1980)

1.1.2.2. Supplement 2: Taxes with Work-Study Programs (1984)

1.1.3. Circular: Reform of Rural School Education (1983)

1.1.4. Circular: Enterprises and Schools (1984)

1.1.5. Circular: General Expenditures (1984)

1.1.6. Circular: Funding for Rural Schools (1984)

1.1.7. Regulations on the Educational Surcharge (1986)

1.1.7.1. Supplement: Revision of the Educational Surcharge (1990)

1.1.8. Reform Decisions of 1985: Basic Education

1.1.9. Law of Compulsory Education (1986)

1.1.10. Notes on the Law of Compulsory Education (1986)

1.1.11. Recommendations on Implementation of the Law of Compulsory Education (1986)

1.1.12. Recommendations on the Structural Reform of the Administration of Rural Basic Education (1987)

1.1.13. Provisions on Strengthening the Management of Funds for General Education (1988)

1.1.14. Further Development of the Work-Study Program in Primary and Secondary Schools (1989)

1.2. Technical and Vocational Education

1.2.1. Report: Restructuring Secondary Education (1980)

1.2.2. Recommendations: Restructuring Secondary Education (1983)

1.2.3. Reform Decisions of 1985: Vocational Education

1.2.4. Report on the National Conference (1986)

1.2.5. Circular: Funding for Specialized Secondary Schools (1986)

1.2.6. Circular: Funding for Vocational Secondary Schools (1986)

1.3. Higher Education (Including Nonformal Higher Education)

1.3.1. Regulations: Financial Management of Workers' Education (1981)

1.3.2. Supplement: Financial Management of Workers' Education (1982)

1.3.3. Report: Accelerating the Development of Higher Education (1983)

1.3.4. Provisional Methods: Commissioned Training (1984)

1.3.5. Circular: Short Courses (1984)

1.3.6. Circular: Commissioned Training (1984)

1.3.7. Reform Decisions of 1985: Higher Education

1.3.8. Circular: Correspondence and Evening Courses (1985)

1.3.9. Circular: Correspondence Courses (1987)

1.3.10. Regulations: Correspondence Courses in Higher Education (1987)

1.3.11. Decision: Reform in Adult Education (1987)

Appendix. Community-Sponsored Schools (1987)

Fall 1992/Vol. 25, No. 3

Reform in the Financing of Education in Mainland China (II)

Guest Editor:
Cheng Kai Ming
University of Hong Kong

Editor's Introduction
Cheng Kai Ming

2. Implementation of Financial Reform in Basic Education: Selected Provinces

2.1. Funds Needed for Implementing the Compulsory Education Program and the Methods of Raising Funds by Different Localities

2.2. Beijing Municipality

2.3. Shanghai Municipality

2.4. The Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region

2.5. Liaoning Province

2.6. Jiangsu Province

2.7. Pingdu County of Shandong Province Instituted the System of People's Educational Foundation

2.8. Hunan Province

2.9. Guangdong Province

2.10. Guizhou Province

2.11. Shaanxi Province

2.12. Gansu Province

2.13. The Xinjiang Uighur Autonomous Region

2.14. How Dongye Township in Wutai County, Shanxi Province, Raises Funds for Schooling

3. The National Expenditures on Education: A Debate on the Deficiency of Our Educational Funding

3.1. Basic Trends in the Relations Between Educational Investment and National Economy in Our Country
Li Yining

3.2. Is Our Educational Funding Above Average Among Countries of Comparable Levels of Development?
Ho Zuoxiu and Mao Junqiang

Winter 1992–93/Vol. 25, No. 4

Reform in the Financing of Education in Mainland China (III)

Guest Editor:
Cheng Kai Ming
University of Hong Kong

Editor's Introduction
Cheng Kai Ming

3. The National Expenditures on Education: A Debate on the Deficiency of Our Educational Funding

3.1. Basic Trends in the Relations Between Educational Investment and National Economy in Our Country
Li Yining

3.2. Is Our Educational Funding Above Average Among Countries of Comparable Levels of Development?
Ho Zuoxiu and Mao Junqiang

3.3. The Level of Educational Expenditures in Our Country
Li Shouxin

3.4. On the Deficiency of Our Educational Funding—An Analysis of the Amount and Percentage of Our Educational Investment, 1977–1987
Yuan Liansheng

3.5. In Search of New Mechanisms in Solving Problems of Educational Finance
Huang Yao

3.6. Issues in Educational Finance in Our Country
Hu Reiwen, Mao Hongxiang, and Jiang Minghe

Appendix: Tables